Onventis Earns Validation in The Hackett Groups Spring 2026 SolutionMap Procurement Technology Assessment

Onventis receives Customer Value distinction in the categories AP-Automation/Invoice-to-Pay

Stuttgart, Mai 13th 2026: Onventis, the European Source-to-Pay Intelligence, today announced it has been recognized once more as a validated provider in The Hackett Group's Spring 2026 SolutionMap, the industry's most rigorous, data-driven benchmark for procurement technology. Onventis was evaluated as part of an assessment spanning 118 vendors across 16 source-to-pay (S2P) categories.

In addition to its SolutionMap Validated status, Onventis received a Customer Value distinction in the categories AP-Automation/Invoice-to-Pay, recognizing its strong performance in anonymized, verified customer value ratings.

SolutionMap assessments are conducted by The Hackett Group's Solution Intelligence analysts, formerly the Spend Matters™ analyst team. Each evaluation is built on 500+ detailed functional and capability criteria, mandatory product demonstrations, and impartial, anonymized, verified customer value ratings. The result is an independent, evidence-based view of the procurement technology landscape – one that procurement leaders actively rely on when evaluating solutions, building business cases and gaining internal buy-in for technology investments. For technology providers, SolutionMap

Validated status represents credible, third-party confirmation of their solution's strengths in a market where differentiation is increasingly difficult to establish and easy to question.

“SolutionMap gives leaders confirmation they can defend: clear shortlists, credible comparisons and reality-checked capability insight to support stakeholder buy-in.” said Carina Kuhl, Principal, Solution Intelligence at The Hackett Group®.

As AI-enabled capabilities become more widely embedded across procurement platforms, the bar for meaningful differentiation continues to rise. Procurement professionals are making technology decisions that carry real consequences – for their organizations' performance and their own credibility. SolutionMap is designed to give them the facts they need to select best-fit solutions with confidence, and give providers a trusted platform to demonstrate why they belong on the shortlist.

“We are honored to earn SolutionMap Validated recognition from The Hackett Group®,” said Zoran Steko, COO at Onventis. “At Onventis, our mission is to empower organizations across Europe with a sovereign, AI-powered and compliant Source-to-Pay platform that drives efficiency, control and resilience in procurement. This recognition reflects independent validation of our solution's capabilities and the real-world value we deliver to our customers, and we are proud to be included among the providers shaping the future of procurement technology.”
